FROLIE

Frolie's a generally enthusiastic, adventurous sort, the kinda kid that'll ignore the scrapes and bruises earned from constant explorations, but give them a chance and they'll nap like a champion because being the caretaker of the known but littleunderstood universe takes a lot out of a 12 year old.

Frolie's hardly the picture of level headedness, though, as you can't expect someone with their life to not flip out now and then, and they DO flip out, butalways come back to normal after blowing off a bit of steam.

Frolie's sense of humor has developed without any real sense of embarrassmentor shame from other people, so even if people don't get why Frolie thinks something is funny, it doesn't stop them from laughing or constantly doing silly voices. Frolie's not a weirdo, but you might think they are if you're not used to being around awesome people.

1. CHEERY/ENTHUSIASTIC: Thank YOU, guys. That was the most fun I've had since the last dying world that called me up. Not gonna lie, you guys were dying the best!

2. CASUAL THEN HORROR VOICE: When I first moved here, first thing people said was "it's really nice here, lots of bike lanes, AND STAY AWAY FROM THE FLESH DISSOLVING MONSTER BLOB THAT LIVES IN THE PARK, BECAUSE ITS PRETTY MUCH THE WORST THING EVER.

3. COSMIC UNDERSTANDING WHILE TALKING TO HER CAT NAMED GRAMPA: You're right, Grampa. Some things, you just never understand. The universe is a weird, incredible place, but it doesn't owe you any explanations, yeah. You and I, sometimes the best we can hope for is a job well done, even if the job itself makes no sense.

4. STOKED: WOOOO! That...was...AWESOME. Also, it was terrifying, and I threw up in there like...ten times.

IMPROVISATION
Please improvise a line in which Frolie, desperate for a nap after saving the universe, is pleading with their stubborn cat, Grampa, to stop loudly scratching, meowing, etc so that Frolie can rest.
